

Copyright Policy

This copyright policy sets out how users are permitted to use our content and also explains the types of use that require the purchase of additional licences. This policy forms part of our terms and conditions. Thank you for reading this policy: our ability to invest in high quality journalism depends on our users complying with it. We reserve the right to change our copyright policy from time to time by publishing an updated policy on LASTARZI.com, which shall become effective and replace any previous policy with effect from publication. This version of the copyright policy was published on 01 January 2022.

What is copyright?

Copyright law gives the copyright owner the exclusive right to control the use of copyright protected works. All of the material published on our website and other digital/wireless platforms is protected by copyright law and should only be used as set out in the "How may I use LAST ARZI content?" section below. Use that is made without our permission may therefore infringe our copyright which can result in personal and corporate liability. Where we state below that something is not allowed or permitted, then to do so is a breach of our terms and conditions: that is, it is a breach of contract, and may also violate copyright law.

How may I use LAST ARZI application?

You may do the following:

- Use the features and functionalities of LAST ARZI for your personal use on any device that is compatible with LASTARZI.com (this might be your PC, laptop, smartphone, tablet or other mobile device) and store our content on that device for your personal use;
- Share links to the application for network marketing purpose.

How may I republish or redistribute LAST ARZI content?

Except as set out above, you may not copy LAST ARZI content from LASTARZI.com or any third party source of LAST ARZI by pasting them into emails or republishing them in any media, including websites, newsletters or intranets.

We recognise that users of the Internet want to share information with others. We therefore permit limited republishing and redistribution of LAST ARZI content as set out below provided that this does not create a Substitute for LAST ARZI's own products or services. We define a Substitute as a product or service that reduces the need for users or other third parties to subscribe for LAST ARZI, or which creates revenue from the LAST ARZI's feature to the detriment of LAST ARZI's own ability to generate revenues from that feature.

As long as you do not create a Substitute, you may publish online a link to the LAST ARZI website.

Am I allowed to copy or summarise limited parts of LAST ARZI full text content?

As specified above you may not publish or create AS-IS feature of LAST ARZI modules, as a Substitute application that might undermine or detriment the use of LAST ARZI.

You may however popularize LAST ARZI by spreading words about its features in form of reviews and suggestions.

How am I allowed to link to LAST ARZI content?

If you would like to link to LASTARZI.com, please read and comply with the following guidelines and all applicable laws. A site or service that links to LASTARZI.com:

- may display an LAST ARZI logo (view our brand guidelines) to indicate the source of the link, but must not otherwise use any LAST ARZI trade marks without permission from LAST ARZI;
- must not remove, distort or otherwise alter the size or appearance of the LAST ARZI logo;
- may link to the homepage of LASTARZI.com, and, provided that you comply with this copyright policy, may also link to other pages of LASTARZI.com;
- must not be a Substitute (as defined above);
- must not in any way imply that LAST ARZI is endorsing it or its products or services;
- must not misrepresent its relationship with LAST ARZI or present false information about LAST ARZI;
- must not be a site or service that infringes any intellectual property or other right of any person or that otherwise does not comply with all relevant laws and regulations; and
- must not be a site or service that contains content that could be construed as distasteful or offensive.

What am I not permitted to do with LAST ARZI content?

You cannot do anything other than make use of the content as set out above, unless you buy the appropriate licence (see below for details). By way of example only, this means that you cannot:

- If you are a registered user or subscriber, share your user name and password (which includes PINs) with anyone else. A password is for one person's use. Sharing a password means a copy of our content may subsequently be made by someone who is not authorised to do so. Password sharing is a breach of our terms and conditions and is likely to result in an infringement of copyright. We monitor usage to detect password sharing.
- Copy, publish or redistribute photographs, graphics, tables or images in any way (except as permitted by any sharing tools we make available).
- Create derivative works from our portal.
- Use spidering technology or other datamining technologies to search and link to LASTARZI.com.
- Use or attempt to use LAST ARZI content outside the parameters we set depending on what subscription you have.

If you have any questions on copyright or republishing our material, please contact our republishing team at info@lastarzi.com.
